Re: Recommendation – Anita Caputo

To Whom It May Concern:

It is with great pleasure that I recommend Anita Caputo as a conference speaker / facilitator. KWA Partners is one of Canada's leading providers of quality, personalized career management services. We deal with individuals in transition and, along with individual coaching, offer small group workshops designed to assist our clients conduct an effective job search.

Anita delivers a workshop entitled "Beating the Emotional Traps of Unemployment". The topic is timely and her presentation helps to increase our clients' levels of confidence in their ability to make a successful transition. Her delivery is engaging and feedback from the seminar is consistently positive with her ranking 4.5 on a 5 point scale on the question, "Overall, to what extent did you find this workshop helpful and informative?"

Comments from evaluations include:

"Very informative and easy listening, very positive attitude, extremely knowledgeable about the topic"

"Positive approach to this new situation, very reassuring"

"Enjoyed the overview of stages of emotions and behaviour, helpful in taking stock and keeping going."

"I found the warning on the traps useful as well as the elements of best practices in landing a job to be helpful".

Anita would be a great addition to any line-up of speakers. She has a great drive and passion for her work.

Sincerely,
